Craig S. Clarke  US Army Attorney, JAG  Home Address: 5228 Lindsay St., Fairfax, VA 22032	Armed Services Board of Appeals Judge Since 2011	Veteran US Army Trial attorney that perpetrated a fraud on the court by suppressing prototype evidence in army custody from being physically cross-examined at hearing.  Later, this pensioned army attorney of nearly 40 years who only advocated for the army, leverages his partiality to become ASBCA Administrative Judge.	1. Did the army reward you with a judgeship after you suppressed critical evidence at the Wesleyan trial, allowing the army to win the case illegally? N
			1a. Then were you awarded a Judgeship for your 40 years of impartial government service to the JAG?
			3. How can you be impartial when you collect an army pension plus an army paycheck?
			4. Did you have a duty to justice to bring all evidence to a trial? Y
			5. As an officer of the court don't you have an ethical obligation to bring the evidence to trial? Did you attempt to perpetrate a fraud by excluding the evidence in the Wesleyann case?
			5.a In doing so, didn't it undo justice by preventing the physical cross-examination of the key prototypes the army held for 20 years?
			6. Do you think you should resign your judgeship and submit to disbarment for failure to hand over key physical evidence in the Wesleyann case?
			7. Wasn't your concealment of Wesleyann's prototypes from the trial a theft from the court?
			8. Isn't that unprofessional conduct since as a federal attorney you are held at a higher standard of duty to ensure justice prevails?
